TREATING 'EM IS BETTER.

Rosemary Theby, who plays one of the chief roles in "Rich Men's Wives," produced by B. P. Schulberg, has ideas about how a husband should be handled. Handled, by the way, is the word used by Miss Theby, who is unmarried.

"The problem so few young wives understand," said Rosemary, "is how to steer the family barque before hubby leaves for the office. Coffee—good, strong coffee, with a pitcher of rich cream—is sure to put the roughest of males in a good humor and to make him realize there is a lot of sunshine in it."

All right, Rosemary, that's for remembrance.

NEW COMEDIES BY THESE.

Buster Keaton's next picture will be "The Electric House." Harold Lloyd will make one called "Dr. Jack," previously called "Doctor's Orders," after "Grandma's Boy" is completed. Mack Sennett announces one called "The Crossroads of New York," and Larry Semon another called "Golf."

"FORGET-ME-NOT."

"Forget-Me-Not" is the name of a picture to be shown beginning next Sunday at the Criterion for an indefinite run. It is a Metro and is called as "The Pic for Every Orphan's Soul." A special showing of it will be made next Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock for directors, managers of orphanages and critics.

Dorothy Gish will play opposite Richard Barthelmess in "Fury," which will be filmed by Inspiration Pictures.

"What's Wrong With Women?" is the title of a picture that's probably calculated to start something. It will be released by Equity Pictures in the fall and has a cast which includes Wilton Lackaye and Montagu Love.

It's getting to be the proper thing, so it seems, for authors to praise the picturizations of their works. It wasn't so a few months ago—but it's all changed.

The latest author to speak right out in metin' and say he liked the screening of his story is Peter B. Kyne, who wrote Helene Chadwick the following letter:

"I have spent the past week helping Mr. Block to title the motion picture production of my story 'Brothers Under the Skin.'"

"In the course of this task it has been necessary for me to view the picture several times, and each time that I have seen the picture I have gleaned additional satisfaction and delight from your portrayal of Millie, the shipping clerk's wife. My cheers have accumulated to the point where an outlet is necessary, and acting on the principle that just praise is a debt and should be paid, I want to tell you that in no picture in which you have played previously have you done better work than in 'Brothers Under the Skin.' You had a good fat part and I expected you to make the most of it, but you have done even better with it than an exacting director had any right to expect."

"I really think his name should be Peter 'Is Kind,' mused Helene, demurely.

Hoey Lawlor, who directed "Buying a Forget Factory," the first in the series of "John Jackson, Detective" series by Irving J. Lewis, is right busy these days on the others in this clever series.

Met George D. Morris on Broadway yesterday. George, besides mapping out the political destinies of the country, is still acting as the inspiration for Inspiration Pictures, Inc., and writing nice pieces about Dick Barthelmess.

J. E. D. Mendor, who likes to see the name "Metro" displayed prominently, spent last week looking for a policeman named Zenda. If he had found one he had a nice story all fixed up about some one being the real "Prisoner of Zenda"—but it didn't work out quite right. (Of course, J. E. D. didn't do anything of the kind.) But it's a good tip for him, at that.) This has nothing whatsoever to do with the movies, but it sounded good. We saw a sign on a Brooklyn restaurant which read: "There are only two places to eat—home and here." And right next door we saw "Complete Funerals $68."

Wanamaker's gets all the samples, surplus shirts and surplus materials made up into shirts, in this section, because we can sell the lot quickly and with least disturbance of the market.

E. & W. Shirts only

Pick all the shirts you like without any question. Only E. & W. shirts in this sale. No other shirts mixed up with them.

These at $1.65

All of madras, mostly woven. Negligee style, French cuffs, in 100 different patterns and colorings, stripes and a few checks.

About 120 shirts, fancy patterns, with self collar attached. And 50 with self collar, detached.

Some white madras, too.

These at $2.65

Woven madras, mostly fibre silk striped. 150 different designs and colorings. The more you look them over, the more you will be impressed with the great variety, and the fineness of them all.

Some all fibre silk. Some Russia cord madras, with fibre silk stripes. Some white madras, beautifully self-figured.

A few have collars attached, and a few have neckbands with collars detached.

Some very fine French madras in plain blue, light green, tan and lavender—a few with pleated bosoms.

These at $4.65

Shirts of pure thread silk, and of "silkendure"—a special shirting made of 60 per cent. pure silk and 40 per cent. Egyptian long staple cotton yarn—very serviceable shirts.

Plain white. Finely close-striped blues, lavenders, greens. Other stripes of varying widths in all the good colors—some with jacquard figures. Silk crepes with cluster stripes, and stripes with invisible checks.

Some have collar attached; some collar detached. Small collection—but a very good one.

Plain brown serges, in three good shades

We make the suits in any sack style desired. Single breasted or double breasted. Roomy or form-fitting. Patch or flap pockets. Any way you like. You may choose from a dozen good models, but if you have any individual ideas you would like incorporated in your suit, we will put them in.

Any size at all—no extra charge

It's the same story every Summer. A lull in the workrooms in July. Organization must be kept together—because it's a good one, and because it's so expensive and takes time to build up a new one.

Cheaper to do this. Less bother. Makes friends. And the workrooms carry on until the busy season opens again.

Two pairs trousers with each suit

First choice Tuesday morning. Deliveries will be made in the order in which measurements are taken. If you are in a hurry for your suit, better come early as you can Tuesday—First try-on, within 4 days.
